Read about the 2016 Creative Schools Symposium and see what other east London organisations have to say about Creative Schools on our website.

The Symposium was absolutely amazing and me and my colleagues were blown away. We had such good fun and it really ignited the spark for us and reminded me why I was so keen to be part of Creative Schools.

– Teacher on Creative Schools Symposium 2016

I enjoyed conversations around how arts and culture can feed into wider school initiatives such as health, school improvement, and development plans

– Cultural leader on Creative Schools Symposium 2016

The Creative Schools network has not only inspired us to broaden the Arts activities that we participate in at Churchfields Junior but extended opportunities for our students to work with others across East London in a creative way, providing unique experiences for them all.

– Wendy Thomas, Headteacher, Churchfields Juniors, Redbridge
