

Schools consider their commitment to providing arts opportunities has changed positively:

Increased knowledge of east London arts

Increased confidence in working with cultural

A shift in the types of arts projects they are involved in

Our Impacts

Strategic Leadership capacity to support cultural education activities in east London has been enhanced, and will continue to develop through the East London Cultural Education Alliance

Cultural Organisations consider their knowledge and understanding of delivering high quality cultural education has increased:

Increased confidence in designing and delivering cultural education projects in schools

Increased knowledge of principles of youth voice, collaboration and how schools operate

Increased understanding of need-led

"I am very glad to be part of Creative Schools - it is helping me to strengthen our commitment across the school as we continue to raise the profile of arts within our curriculum."

east London schools took part in brokerage activities

Established new

CREATIVE SCHOOLS BROKERAGE

schools signed up to Creative Schools Artsmark

99

Our Outputs

Who took part

Children + Young people

young people participated in consultations and leadership activities > learning opportunities delivered

"I understand the need to get the schools involved right from the beginning of the project, before we've even got the artists on board, so we are working to their aims."

Teacher

39 cultural organisations proposed a creative project

45 creative projects

delivered

What we did

Improved practice and

COLLABORATIVE LEARNING

YOUTH VOICE

Tested more

NEW LONDON

teachers, arts leaders, and young people took part in two annual Symposia organisations contributed to a mixed financial model

Cultural Leader

young people participated in a project

Our Story of Change

Creative

Schools

More east London young people & schools engaged in creative activities that meet their needs and improvement priorities through sustainable and collaborative business and delivery models projects from school budgets for every £1 invested by Creative Schools